Fair Game Policy

The 'Church' of Scientology believes anyone who speaks out against the 'church' is what they call an "SP" (suppressive person) and a criminal. The Fair Game Policy states:

"SP Order. Fair game. May be deprived of property or injured by any means by any Scientologist without any discipline of the Scientologist. May be tricked, sued or lied to or destroyed."

~ L. Ron Hubbard (founder of Scientology)

Operation Snow White

Operation Snow White was the 'Church' of Scientology's name for a project during the 1970s to purge unfavorable records about Scientology and its founder L. Ron Hubbard. This project included a series of infiltrations and thefts from 136 American government agencies, foreign embassies and consulates, as well as private organisations critical of Scientology, carried out by 'Church' members; the single largest infiltration of the United States government in history with up to 5,000 covert agents.

Forced Family Disconnection

When becoming a Scientologist new members are forced to "disconnect" and break any communication with their families. This includes parents and their children, and husbands and wives. The reason is to prevent trusted family members from talking new members out of joining. This would result in revenue loss for the 'Church' of Scientology.
